WELSH-KOEPPGEN VOWS SPOKEN

A candlelight ceremony Saturday afternoon at the Michelson Memorial Church united in marriage Nellie Cary Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Welch and Donald E. Koepfgen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle A. Koepfgen of Cass City, Michigan.

The rites were solemnized by Rev. R. C. Puffer at 4 o'clock before an altar of white chrysanthemums and greens. Traditional organ wedding music was played by Mrs. C. G. Clippert and Mrs. Roy O. Milnes, soloist, sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of candlelight satin styled with a fitted bodice, long sleeves with a lace ruffle, and full skirt ending in a train. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a satin half hat trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy, centered with a corsage of red roses, and wore a string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Gail Welsh, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sapphire blue satin and full skirt with matching half hat and carried pale pink mums. The three bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Borchers of Grayling, Miss Kathleen Ross of Cass City, and Mrs. Donald Pettigall of Michigan City, Indiana.

Worse Than Fools

It is reliably reported that a number of Mr. Truman's economic advisors have told him that there is little need to worry about government spending, deficits, or the size of the national debt. If we are to have military budgets of $35,000,000,000 a year or more, they can simply be piled on top of non-defense expenditures of a similar amount.

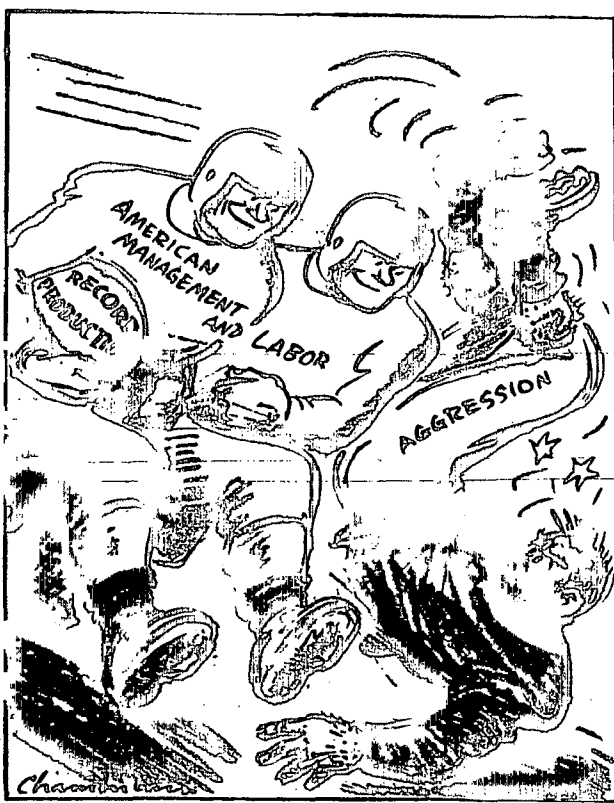

This theory is not a new one. It was given a considerable amount of credence in the days of the Roosevelt Administrations by advisors who argued that the national debt was of small importance for the reason that it simply represented money we owed to ourselves. And, basically; that is part of the "spend and spend and spend and tax and tax and tax" school of thinking.

There is however, one little thing wrong with the theory, as history has demonstrated time and time again. It is simply this: The surest way to create inflation, to destroy the value of the dollar, and to destroy with it the true worth of every bank account, every life insurance policy, and every form of investment with the possible exception of real property, is government extravagance.

Senator Byrd has pointed out specific means by which non-defense spending can be cut by billions without imperiling a single necessary government function. The Hoover Commission surveys produced similar evidence. According to the American Bankers Association, the government could save $6,000,000,000 a year by the simple expedient of cutting back non-defense expenditures at least to the level of 1948. Yet the Administration and Congress have not shown the slightest interest in cuts of any significance.

Here is "politics as usual" with a vengeance. It is an obvious fact that honest economy in government would shrink the pork barrel to a mere fraction of its present dimensions. And that, the political argument goes, would cost votes. So the country is driven down a road that must lead to inflation, which if not curbed, leads eventually to bankruptcy.

Monoxide Danger
Season Here

Forty Michigan people will lose their lives to carbon monoxide poisoning in the next few months unless Michigan people give more thought to the danger of the odorless, colorless, tasteless gas.

In parked automobiles, in tourist cabins and in their own homes, carbon monoxide snuffs out the lives of unsuspecting victims each fall and winter, John Soet, Director of the Division of Industrial Health, Michigan Department of Health, warned today.

Don't take a chance on "parking" in an automobile with the engine running, Mr. Soet warned. Every year, thoughtless young couples lose their lives this way. Always drive with a window open. Have expert garage mechanics check to see that your automobile exhaust system is tight. Close your fresh air intake in closely packed traffic, so it doesn't draw in the exhaust fumes from the car ahead of you. Never try to heat up your car by running the engine in a closed garage. If you begin to feel sleepy, dizzy or a little nauseated or your head begins to ache while you are driving, stop the car and get out of it.

Did in hand that's a beauty!

and a Buy!

Now it can be told. This clean-lined, smart-stepping 1950 version is the most popular Buick ever built.

Ever since early in the present year, a value-wise public has been taking them away from us as fast as—or faster than—the great Buick factories could roll them out. Within recent weeks, production and sales have set an all-time record.

Count off the distinguished and time-tried features of this winner and you'll know why. It has a Very Exclusive Motor—Buick's own high-compression Fireball—which gets its driving power from a combustion chamber found in no other car in the world.

It has Dynaflo Drive*—which ushered in a whole new concept of effortless travel. It has a brilliant styling which sets it apart from every other car on the road. And it has prices which say "buy me" to any motorist who's looking for maximum money's worth.

It has the bump-smothering softness of coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube drive—a comfort combination that no other car provides.

Isn't it sensible, while these great cars are still coming off the line, to check with your Buick dealer about getting one to call your own?

Letters To The Editor

Editor's Note: Below is printed a letter received by relatives of Lt. (j.g.) Robert E. Creque, U. S. N. since the ship on which he was serving sank off the coast of Korea.

Lt. (j.g.) R. E. Creque, U.S.N.
USS Repose, H 16
C/o P. M.
San Francisco, California.
October 15, 1950.

Dear All:

Don't be alarmed at this stationery. I'm feeling fine and in wonderful spirits. We lost our ship around 14:00 the 12th of October sweeping mines in the inner harbor of Wonsan, North Korea.

We struck a mine under the after engine room and sank in about two minutes. I was on the fantail about 30 feet from the explosion and don't remember a thing until I heard some of the men on the ship yelling at me to grab a life ring that was floating about 20 feet away. I had my kapok life jacket on so I really didn't need the life ring. I grabbed it any way and swam clear of the ship. The water was pretty chilly too. Reminded me of that dunking Ted and I got the last time I was home. We had been sweeping Russian Mark contact mines for four days and acting as guinea pig (1st ship); so our time was up, that's all there was to it. We had been steering between mines by the use of sonar; but ran onto too many mines to handle. I had the honor of being the first one in the water and watch the ship roll to port slightly and then all the way to the starboard as all hands abandoned ship. We only lost six men. The ship was abandoned as orderly as could have been expected under the circumstances.

The area was supposed to have been cleared of NK's; and we were to have air cover. Immediately after hitting the mine, shore batteries opened up on us and shells were popping all over us and shells. No air cover. (30 minutes later Corsairs came over and silenced the batteries, I think). One of our sister ships—the Pledge AM274—took several hits as she turned to seaward to clear the harbor—she then struck a mine and sank in 15 minutes. All but five of her crew were rescued and one died on the USS Endicott DMS 39 on the way to the Hospital ship where we are now. We were in the water only about an hour before we were taken aboard the Endicott and then to the Hospital ship here at Pusan. I have no pains, just a few bruises, torn ligaments in my left leg and a fractured jaw which they are going to wire up tonight or tomorrow morning. Will be ready for deer season this year; and am going to pull all the strings I can to get back to the States for leave the start of the season. The big push is only a few days away now and this mess will be over shortly.

Am getting all kinds of rest and good food. Will see you all shortly. Give my regards to all.

All my love,

Bob.

P. S. No sense writing to me until I get a permanent address. This letter was written on American Red Cross stationery.

GRAYLING IMPROVEMENTS

The Sorenson Funeral Home has added a new convenience to their services in the nature of a new office and private family room and the entire funeral parlor has been recarpeted.

The front of the Black and White Grocery has been remodeled and larger windows installed.

McEvers Motor Sales is looking much improved with a new coat of white paint with blue trim.

Beaver Creek School is also boasting of changes. New toilets and sinks have been installed in both the boys and girls bath rooms. A new hot-water heater has been put into use and new septic tanks installed. Parts of the walls have been refinished with wall board and new linoleum on the floors has been added. The children are especially pleased with it all and in addition had a four day vacation from school while the remodeling was being done. The work was done by Frank Millikin and Roy Elliot Jr.

Work is also coming right along on the new Peterson Hardware Building and it won't be long now till they move into the new location.

PRIEST WARNS AGAINST INTOLERANCE AND BIGOTRY

The Rev. John A. O'Brien, University of Notre Dame, says: "In its ceaseless war against the United States, Communist Russia has no more powerful ally than the weapon of racial intolerance and religious bigotry." ### Aero Club News

There is not an industry or an individual in Michigan who is not directly concerned with the development of aviation. William H. Brech said today in extending an invitation to businessmen to become active in the Aero Club of Michigan program.

Brech, Michigan distributor for Ford tractors and Dearborn form equipment, is chairman of the Aero Club's membership committee.

Most immediately concerned with the expansion of aeronautical activity are those firms which supply the air lines, the flight services, the military air forces and the airports.

Fabricators of aluminum, steel, rubber, glass, producers of powerplants, petroleum products, electronic equipment, building and runway contractors, are all directly with the aviation industry.

"But in addition to these," Brech said, "there are the thousands of industrial concerns and small business establishments whose success or failure is tied to the fast tempo of the whole industrial complex which is America."

"And the airplane, whether operated in scheduled air carrier service, non-scheduled freight and cargo operation, or by an industrial concern, is today setting the pace for the nation's business."

"Anyone who has ever taken advantage of the swift air mail service of the Post Office Department has enjoyed directly the benefits of air age communications."

"Any factory worker who has enjoyed uninterrupted pay because air freight shipment of critical parts or materials has averted a plant shutdown, is a benefactor of the airplane."

"And all of us, who look upward with confidence at the mighty weapons of defense winging through the air, are beneficiaries of the air age achievement."

"The Aero Club of Michigan is active in all these fields, helping to promote a more stable aeronautical industry, helping spread the message of the air age through the schools, the shops and the home."

"Businesses helping aviation are helping themselves. The Aero Club of Michigan is the medium through which this self-help may be effectuated."

fixed now. Where there is smoke, there is usually carbon monoxide. Don't shovel coal on your hot furnace fire and then shut it up tight for the night. Make sure that the ventpipe on the hot water heater in your bathroom or basement is intact and open.

Be sure that the tourist cabin you occupy has a vented heater and that the vent or smokepipe is open. Raise the window before you go to bed.

Don't use a gas or kerosene oven to take the chill off your house "these cold mornings," nor the burners on the top of the stove to heat a cold kitchen.

Remember that that snug drowsy feeling you get when you sit in front of the gas or coal fireplace or over the register may be due to carbon monoxide, too.

Carbon monoxide is formed whenever fuel is burned. Greater quantities of the gas are formed when the fuel is burned in a cold room or when the flame hits a cold surface. Proper ventilation of all heating units to get rid of the poison gas is of the most importance.

While 2 parts of carbon monoxide per 10,000 parts of air can make you dangerously sleepy and 8 parts per 10,000 of air during a two hour period can kill you, even smaller amounts can poison you—make you groggy or nauseated and make your head ache and your heart pound. The amount it takes to make you just a little sick, can kill your baby or your aged mother.

Open all the doors of a house, cabin or car thought to have carbon monoxide contaminated air. If you suspect carbon monoxide poisoning get the victim into the open air, apply artificial respiration and call a doctor at once.

Cheerleader Clinic at U. of M. Set For Nov. 11

High school cheerleaders from all over the State of Michigan will attend a clinic at the University of Michigan on Saturday, November 11.

More than 1,700 cheerleaders from 230 schools already have made reservations and it is possible that there will be 2,000 present when the event is held. In addition to attending the clinic on Saturday morning, all the cheerleaders will appear with the University of Michigan Marching Band at the Michigan-Indiana football game.

"The clinic is a result of the interest and need which was shown through the area clinics staged by the University last year," L. E. Vredevoe, director of the Bureau of School Services, says. "The purpose of these clinics, in addition to reviewing the techniques of cheerleading, is to help cheerleaders recognize their responsibility and opportunity to serve as leaders in their schools in developing good sportsmanship, citizenship and school spirit."

The clinic is being sponsored by the Bureau of School Services with the co-operation of the University cheerleaders under the direction of Newton C. Loken, the Marching Band under the direction of William D. Revelli and the Board of Control of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The morning clinic will start at 10 A. M. in the Intramural Building under the leadership of the University cheerleaders and Mr. Loken. A count of the advance reservations early this week showed 1,728 cheerleaders and 397 faculty advisers from 230 schools plan to attend with additional reservations still arriving.

All parts of the Lower Peninsula and both ends of the Upper Peninsula are represented in the reservations already made. The U. P. representative are Stephenson at the western end of the peninsula and Sault Ste. Marie in the eastern end.

Those planning to attend from Grayling are Marlene Sorenson, Jerimae Harwood, Joan Simpson, Vivette Isenhauer, Miss. Wanda Mikrut. Alfred Sorenson will furnish the transportation.

Christmas Seal Sale Starts Soon

There is in Michigan a sea of faces turned toward an outside world. These are the faces of those who are sick with tuberculosis, who must spend months, years isolated from their families, cut off from a normal life.

This statement from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association this week heralded announcement of the dates for the 1950 sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals in Grayling and Crawford County. The 44th annual TB Seal Sale will begin on November 20, and close on Christmas Day, Theodore J. Werle, executive secretary, Michigan Tuberculosis Association, said.

With the sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals providing the only source of money for the Christmas Seal agency's year-around battle to stop TB, Werle emphasized that "tuberculosis is a disease of all people. It is a 'catching' disease." "No one is immune."

Nearly 6,000 new cases of tuberculosis were reported in Michigan last year, Werle said. "And 10,400 Michigan people were killed by tuberculosis last year — needless deaths. Tuberculosis can be found, treated and conquered. Progress is being made but prevention depends on more education, more hospital beds, more rehabilitation aids. For the prevention of tuberculosis, and for mutual protection from this disease, people of Grayling and Crawford County are urged to buy and use tuberculosis Christmas Seals this year."

He added that the 1950 tuberculosis Christmas Seal will feature three child-like angels, one singing from a scroll of music as her companions play musical accompaniment.

District Home Extension Rally Friday November 10

A district rally for all Home Extension members and friends of the Northern District will be held on Friday, November 10 at the Municipal Building at Gaylord. The rally will begin at 10 A. M.

Mrs. Lloyd Spencer, chairman of the Michigan Home Demonstration Council will be the main speaker of the day. Mrs. Spencer has just returned from Denmark, where she attended the meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World. Representatives of many countries attended this meeting and discussed the activities carried on in their countries by the women's groups, such as our local Home Extension groups. Mrs. Spencer will have many interesting things to tell of the people she met and the countries she visited.

There will also be a roll call of the counties present at the meeting and a prize for the county with the most ladies attending. The counties who did not present entertainment last year will entertain this year. A five minute report of county activities by each county will give an idea of prospects carried out in this area.

Everyone is invited to attend the rally. Let's have Crawford County well represented.

Seniors To Present "Boarding House Reach"

The Senior Class under the direction of Mrs. Roy Milnes are to present their play "The Boarding House Reach" tonight Nov. 9 at eight o'clock.

The cast of characters is as follows:

The play concerns Wilbur Maxwell, 13 years old who has wanted a bicycle for many years.

He dreamed of pedaling through town, getting fond gazes from the girls, and boastfully shouting,

"Look, no hands!" But he still can't persuade Mama and Papa to jar down—to get him one. So when Pop is called away for a week-long business trip, Mom is persuaded to go with him for sort of a second honeymoon, and the house is left in charge of sister Connie and sister Betty Lou. Wilbur gets his idea. He'll make his own money and buy his own bicycle. He'll open up a boarding house right here. Wilbur knows there's a frightful housing shortage, he knows people need places to sleep, and he knows for a whole week he can really clean up and just be rolling in bicycles.

So into the paper goes the ad, and that night the whole Maxwell house is crawling with people. First comes Lucy Burns, a sort of walking encyclopedia; then Mrs. Mott, who never says a word all through the play, just comes in, sits down, gets up, and walks out. Then come Ninety-Volt Jones, a beat-up pug, and his wrestling partner, Ruby; they're followed by Mr. Potter, an insurance salesman, and next come Lumpy McGuire and his wife, Nora. Now, every room in the house is full, Wilbur's doing a bang-up business, and then it happens Mama and Papa Maxwell, at two o'clock of the next morning, come dragging home—Papa forgot his brief case.

From there on out it's one mess after another. Papa has an important business conference the next morning, but he has to sleep on the floor, he can't get in to shave, and he can't even read his own paper. Things are going round and round. Finally, it's discovered somebody in the house is a bank robber, and poor Papa is mistakenly carted off to the clink. What a mess now! And before it's all finally straightened out and Wilbur has his bicycle, you'll be dead from laughing over the antics of the Maxwells and the carload of characters that invade their sanctuary.

Tickets may be purchased from any Senior, adults 60c, students 40c. Reserve seats are on sale at Mac's Drug Store.

There will be entertainment between the acts.
